Topic: Text Based Activities on Karma

Description:

Text-Based Activities – Karma is an interactive learning resource crafted to enhance learners' understanding of the law of karma through direct engagement with classical and contemporary texts. By exploring scriptural excerpts, philosophical interpretations, and contextual applications, learners are encouraged to critically examine how the principle of karma – as the moral law of cause and effect – manifests across different dimensions of life. The activities prompt reflection on ethical choices, accountability, and the long-term consequences of actions, fostering both intellectual insight and personal relevance. This resource supports the development of analytical and interpretive skills while grounding abstract concepts in meaningful textual exploration.
